The image shows a blank sheet of lined paper designed for a notebook or binder. It features a central vertical dashed line that divides the page into two equal-width columns. On the far left and far right, there are vertical dashed lines that define the margins. Above each of these outer dashed lines, the word "SCORE" is printed in a bold, black, sans-serif font. The paper has rounded corners on the left side and a binding edge on the right side, indicated by a series of semi-circular tabs. The entire page is white with black lines and text.
